

Spoken Language Development in Down Syndrome Research Study

Purpose

We are recruiting families for a research project to find out more about how language skills develop in children between the ages of 6 and 11 years who have Down syndrome.

Details

Children and their mothers will participate in an assessment of language and cognition totaling 2 to 3 hours (either at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign or a location near you) and by completing questionnaires. We will pay families $40 for their time and effort, and we will reimburse mileage for those who travel to campus from a distance of greater than 50 miles.

Contact Us

For more information and to find out if you and your child are eligible, contact Dr. Marie Channell at the Intellectual Disabilities Communication Lab by email (idclResearch@illinois.edu) or phone (217-265-6058). Visit our website at www.idcl.shs.illinois.edu.

